BANKERS TOLD U. S. IS FACING THREE THREATS

"America today faces a triple threat, physical extinction, spiritual extinction and moral extinction," Dr. Carl Hermann Voss told shareholders of the First National Bank, its officers and guests Friday night at the 26th annual shareholders dinner in the Hotel Gettysburg.

Speaking on the subject "What Answer for Our Age of Anxiety," Dr. Voss said there can be only one answer. "We must make God a living reality in our individual lives and in the lives of our communities," he said.

"We can all draw on spiritual power, as we have drawn on this power in the past. Tomorrow you commemorate again a moment that stands out in history. Nine decades ago a great spirit came to Gettysburg to tell us we are all brothers. In his time of crisis, he drew on these great spiritual powers.

"What is the solution for our age of anxiety? I can't give you any easy or set answer, but I can give you Socrates, who said 'Control Thyself,' Zeno, the Roman stoic, who said 'Know Thyself,' and Jesus of Nazareth, who said 'Give Thyself.'"

"Age Of Anxiety"
Dr. Voss, chairman of the executive council of the American Christian Palestine Committee, a member of the faculty of the New School for Social Research and formerly an executive of the Church Peace Union and World Alliance for International Friendship, was introduced by Edmund W. Thomas, president of the bank.

"We have no corner on anxiety," Dr. Voss declared. "Every generation has been shot through with anxieties, but it appears that we have gone from an age of confidence to an age of greater anxiety.

"We wouldn't want to go back to those old days. Today we move about much faster. When Everett's and Lincoln's words here were carried to a waiting nation, it was by means of a new invention. Today the sexes are closer. Men and women work together in factory, home and office.

Nearer Equality For Men
"We live today with and by machines. Today atomic energy is taken for granted. We have better living conditions. Efforts are made to bring our kind of life to help others. We haven't attained perfection but we have moved on toward a greater freedom and equality for all men.

"Probably the most important development is that we in America have had thrust upon us the responsibility of the world's greatest power.

"We have the word of the Bible that no people, however, can live for themselves alone. You show by your presence here tonight the characteristics of groups all over America living with each other.

"You have confidence in these officers of your bank because they are safeguarding your future. What happened two decades ago cannot happen again. Your savings are insured. But security really comes from within. I'm not so (Continued on Page 2)

1,100 COUNTIANS SEE FFA FILM PRODUCED HERE

Approximately 1,100 Adams Countians Friday evening attended the local premiere of "Farmer of Tomorrow" presented in two showings at the Gettysburg High School, locale of much of the picture.

Officials from General Motors Corporation, which sponsored the film for the Future Farmers of America Foundation, and Victor Solo, producer of the picture, were introduced and spoke briefly in a program in connection with the showing of the film.

John F. Daneke, Detroit, in charge of community relations for General Motors, and under whose department the film was made, told the audience, "You who contributed to this picture, by taking parts in it, by providing services in connection with the film, can rest assured that you have made a contribution to the future of America.

"Great Service To Nation"
"For the film will be distributed to agriculture teachers throughout the United States as well as through General Motors dealers, and will be seen by millions. If it serves to interest just a few of our fine young men in becoming farmers it will have rendered a great service to the nation.

"For the farmer today is not only a producer of the food the nation (Please Turn to Page 3)

Photographic Group Meets On Friday

A print entered by Dr. Francis C. Mason took first place in the monthly print show at the October meeting of the Gettysburg Photographic Society Friday evening in York at the home of Mrs. Ward Goughnour, an honorary member of the local organization.

A picture entered by Dr. C. A. Sloat took second place; Paul G. Pensinger, third, and Philip Tyson, fourth. There were seven members in attendance and 11 pictures shown. Mrs. Goughnour presented a print show from Nashville, Tenn.

The next meeting will be on November 21 in the Gettysburg College chemistry laboratory with Dr. Bruce Etchison, director of the Washington County Museum of Fine Arts, as the speaker.

MISS LAWVER, STERLING KINT TO WED TODAY

Miss Betty Lucille Lawver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lawver, Biglerville, will become the bride of Sterling Kint, son of Mrs. Mary Kint, Biglerville R. 1, at a ceremony to be performed this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Biglerville. The double-ring ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Robert H. Sternat, Idaville, before an altar banked with ferns, palms and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Donald Wecker, Gettysburg, sister of the bride, who will be accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Kenneth Lawver, will sing "Oh! Promise Me," "Because," "My Hero," and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

The bride, to be given in marriage by her father, will wear a ballerina-length gown of white Chantilly lace over satin designed with a Peter Pan collar. The full-length sleeves taper to points over the wrists. The full skirt is of nylon tulle over satin with panels of Chantilly lace. Her veil-of-thriller net falls from a band of satin and orange blossoms. She will carry a white Bible, a gift of her mother, topped with a white orchid with ribbon streamers.

In Wedding Party
Miss Clara Lou Hildebrand, Biglerville, friend of the bride, will be the maid of honor. She will be attired in a strapless ballerina-length gown of medium blue design with a satia bodice with matching stole and a full skirt of nylon tulle over satin. Her small hat is of matching color. She will carry an arm bouquet of white, yellow and rust chrysanthemums with yellow streamers.

NAMED DEAN OF WOMEN HERE

Mrs. L. O. Johnson, Gettysburg, has been named acting dean of women of Gettysburg College from November 1 to March 1 according to an announcement by President Dr. Walter C. Langsam today. Mrs. Johnson is the wife of the associate professor of education at the college.

A graduate of Gettysburg College in 1933, Mrs. Johnson had been active in extracurricular affairs while an undergraduate, played in a number of dramatic roles in the Owl and Nightingale productions.

She is the only woman graduate of the college to receive the Alumni Meritorious Service Award presented annually to the person or persons who have done most for the college. She has been a member of the executive council of the Alumni Association for many years and presently is chairman of the Undergraduate Activities committee.

In the community she has been active in the Red Cross and Community Chest, and is one of the founders of the Adams County Free Library.

AP PHOTOGRAPHER HERE

Paul Vathis, Associated Press photographer attached to the Harrisburg Bureau, arrived in Gettysburg this morning. He will do a series of pictures on the pageant, "Mr. Lincoln Goes to Gettysburg," for the AP which will be featured on the network. Some of the pictures he will do will be included in a feature series for newspapers throughout the country. One or two special pictures will be matted for the Monday morning papers.

SELLS FARMS

Walter and Irene Roper of Philadelphia have sold their two farms, of 112 and 16 acres, respectively, located in Hamiltonban Twp., near Fairfield, to Wilbur F. and Virginia L. Sites of Fairfield R. 1. Possession will be given next spring. The sale was made through John C. Bream and Son.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lady, Biglerville R. D., have received word of the birth of a grandson at the York Hospital on Wednesday. The infant is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles L. Lady, Stewartstown.

WOMEN DEBATE ELECTION ISSUES IN COURT HOUSE

Republican and Democratic positions on state and national issues were debated Friday evening at a public meeting in the court house sponsored by the local chapter of the American Association of University Women with two women prominent in their respective parties in Pennsylvania as speakers.

Both Miss Genevieve Blatt, Democratic nominee for auditor general, and Mrs. Mary Rice Morrow, a Republican and director of the state Bureau of Women and Children, were given 15 minutes to present opening statements and five minutes apiece later for rebuttal. Then both defended their parties in a lively exchange of questions from the audience and answers from the speakers.

First speaker was Mrs. Morrow. She asserted Eisenhower and the Republican party offer the nation a plan for peace, a good fiscal policy and "the type of government in which the people can have faith." She described the "Truman doctrine" of inherent powers of the presidency as "one of the most dangerous ever thrust upon the American people," assailed as an insult to Americans "the indigestible jargon" now coming from the President and labeled as "war economy" the Democratic claim that American "have never had it so good."

"Never Such Corruption"
She declared that Eisenhower's NATO achievement recommended him as the candidate who can "bring a solution to our world problems in so far as that is possible." She warned "we'll never have peace from a war without an objective and under an administration that lost 500 millions in Asia and 100 million more behind the Iron Curtain in Europe." She declared lack of leadership at Washington and an appeasement policy is costing the United States world leadership.

Admitting that there has been corruption in government before and may be again, Mrs. Morrow (Please Turn to Page 3)

COLUMBUS DAY DINNER FOR K. C.

Lawrence Nessel, Chambersburg, a past deputy district commander of the Knights of Columbus, a past Grand Knight of the Chambersburg Council, will be the speaker Sunday evening at the annual Columbus Day dinner to be held by the Gettysburg Council of the K of C at the Shetter House.

George Schachle, grand knight of the local Knights of Columbus, said approximately 100 members of the local council and their ladies are expected to attend the dinner scheduled to begin at 6 o'clock Sunday evening. Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the local National Cemetery, will be master of ceremonies.

Grand Knight Schachle observed that the current Columbus Day program of the local Council also is in observance of the 100th anniversary of the birth of the founder of the Knights of Columbus, Rev. Fr. Michael J. McGivney.

"Now with a membership of more than 800,000, the Knights of Columbus came into existence more than 75 years ago in the Diocese of Hartford, Conn., when Father McGivney, then an assistant pastor, established a small organization within his own parish to provide social benefits for the male members of his parish and help them financially. The idea spread slowly with many periods of imminent failure. Father McGivney died at 38 without an idea that his Knights of Columbus would spread and become a great national organization."

Family Fellowship Programs Continue

The second Family Fellowship program sponsored by the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches will be held Sunday evening in the Presbyterian Church between 5 and 7:15 o'clock.

Continuing the general theme "Our Christian Responsibility for Human Rights," the adult period will consider the "Rights of Religion." This subject will include the study of the struggle for individual and group rights in the areas of church-state and inter-faith relations. The subject will be presented in the form of a panel presentation with Attorney Donald M. Swope presiding and Prof. George R. Larkin, Dr. Harold A. Dunkelberger and Attorney Eugene R. Hartman participating.

Other departments will treat the general theme on their own graded levels.

The discussions will follow box lunches and a recreation period.

TREATED FOR BITE

Norman Pfeiffer, 20, Orttanna, was treated at the Chambersburg Hospital for a dog bite.

"Voice Of America" Will Broadcast Lincoln Pageant

Gettysburg was the crossroads of the nation today, and the focal point of millions of eyes of those who in places far and near were unable to be here in person, as the Western Maryland Railway Co. climaxed the observance of its 100th anniversary with the presentation of the pageant "Mr. Lincoln Goes to Gettysburg."

Thousands began to pour into Gettysburg Friday and highways were streaming with automobiles from an early hour this morning. The re-enactment of Lincoln's 1863 visit to Gettysburg and his Gettysburg Address was the biggest event in this historically proud town for many years.

The French Unit of the "Voice of America" came here to "tape" the presentation for use on "The Voice" later in France.

The town was decorated, the cast of over 500 ready, steam was up in the Thatcher Perkins, the 1863 locomotive which will bring the "Lincoln Train into Gettysburg a few minutes after 1:30 p.m.

Parking restrictions previously announced went into effect as an augmented force of Pennsylvania State Police arrived to supplement borough and Western Maryland police officers in the direction of traffic and control of the crowds.

Radio and television networks and news reel and movie concerns sent their cameramen and crews into Gettysburg today to record for those unable to be here the stirring events of the early afternoon.

Among veteran reporters, photographers and TV and radio men the Western Maryland said were here are Arnold Newman, Life Magazine; Meyer Berger, New York Times news reporter; Hugh Humphrey, Washington; Nelson Edwards, who will "cover" for the American Broadcasting Co.'s All Star TV News Reel, and George Gore, cameraman from NBC's TV Camel Caravan.

COMPLETE LIST OF SOLICITORS IN CHEST DRIVE

District chairmen today were completing lists of solicitors for the annual canvass by the Gettysburg Community Chest, scheduled to begin Thursday morning and end—the Chest officials hope—on October 30.

During the ten-day period the canvassers are scheduled to knock on every door within the borough limits of Gettysburg and the residential sections immediately surrounding the borough to ask for donations towards the chest which support six local organizations.

The solicitors will be seeking to raise $21,450 during their ten days of intensive canvass of the community. And while Community Chest officials feel sure there may have to be a few "call-backs" after the October 30 deadline for the drive, they are also certain that only those who are away from town during the ten days will be able to avoid the visits of the solicitors.

Enthusiasm for the canvass, already running high among the solicitors named, according to district heads, is expected to reach a peak Wednesday evening when the solicitors will take part in a "kick-off" dinner to be served at the (Please Turn to Page 3)

Damage Suit Is Settled In York

A $2,690 settlement of a damage suit resulting from a auto accident in which Maurice Wagaman, 56, of Abbotstown R. 1, lost his life, was approved in common pleas court in York, Friday, by Judge Ray P. Sherwood.

Original suit was filed by Mrs. Mabel B. Wagaman, wife of the decedent, against Douglas Cunningham, Havertown, Delaware County.

Wagaman was fatally injured Sept. 1, 1951, when struck by Cunningham's car on the Lincoln highway about one mile east of Abbotstown, almost in front of his home.

Of the settlement sum $690.22 is for funeral and medical expenses; $625 to the widow; $1,250 for the two Wagaman children and $125 attorney fees.

Tumor Clinic Again Okayed At Hospital

The Warner Hospital has received word that it has again been accredited for its tumor clinic, Walter R. Doud, hospital administrator said today.

The Adams County tumor clinic at the hospital was inspected recently by Dr. William E. Eaton, Chicago, representative of the American College of Surgeons, Mr. Doud said.

A letter just received by the hospital says "We are pleased to announce that the department of clinical research is recommending to the committee on cancer of the American College of Surgeons that the clinic operated at the Warner Hospital be continued as fully approved."

Descendant Of Veteran Of Gettysburg Battle Is Here

Among the spectators viewing the Lincoln pageant today will be Mrs. Ruth O. Sheppard of Alton, Ill., whose grandfather, Sgt. James M. Phillips, of the 106th Pennsylvania Volunteers, was wounded in the Battle of Gettysburg.

Mrs. Sheppard, senior vice president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the G. A. R. and a representative of the Historical Society of Illinois, arrived in Gettysburg Wednesday for a visit to the National Cemetery. To her surprise, she learned of the historic presentation to be given here today, "Mr. Lincoln Goes to Gettysburg," so she decided to remain.

A guest of Mrs. Ida Weikert, E. Middle St., Mrs. Sheppard told the story of the time her grandfather returned to Gettysburg to attend the 1913 reunion. "For years he dreamed about returning to the scene of the battle," she said. While here, he met a Confederate veteran whom he had attacked in a hand-to-hand fight during those memorable days. "I recall that we both lay side-by-side, each thinking the other was dying." Both were surprised to discover the other alive many years later.

The elderly veteran died 20 days after his return to Chicago where he lived at the time.

Mrs. Sheppard attended the national convention of the Auxiliary in Boston. She will leave for Alton, Ill., Sunday. She was delayed in returning by an accident in New York, after which she spent some time in a hospital.

PEFFER-UNGER NUPTIALS READ THIS AFTERNOON

Miss Betty Jane Unger, 216 Chambersburg St., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Unger, became the bride of Claude Richard Peffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Peffer, Seminary Ave., at a ceremony performed at 2 o'clock this afternoon in Christ Lutheran Church by the Rev. O. D. Coble, pastor of the bride. Wedding marches were played by Mrs. O. D. Coble.

The bride wore a light brown suit with dark brown accessories and carried a white Bible. Her corsage was composed of red and white rosebuds and her only jewelry was a strand of pearls.

Mrs. Dale Fidler, Gettysburg, maid of honor, wore a green suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds. Dale Fidler, Gettysburg, was the best man. A reception was held afterwards in the Aspers Fire Hall.

The bride is a graduate of the Biglerville High School with the class of 1951 and is presently employed at the local telephone exchange.

Mr. Peffer attended the Sparrows Point High School, Sparrows Point, Md., and spent four years in the service during World War II, three of which were in overseas service. He is an employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Harrisburg.

FORMER WGCT ANNOUNCER ON AIR IN ALASKA

A former WGCT announcer now managing an Armed Forces radio station at Whittier, Alaska, reports that the "Way Back Home" program made by WGCT has arrived in Alaska.

Cpl. William B. Tipton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton R. Tipton, York St., now with Headquarters and Headquarters Co., Whittier, Alaska, wrote the local station, "I want to thank everyone connected with the program you did for the Armed Forces Radio Service. It certainly was swell of you people to take time out to remember us. Saturday I opened a package of transcriptions and there was one from Gettysburg. I knew it was coming but not exactly when it would arrive.

Home By Spring
"Just after I took over as manager of the station here in the port of Whittier, I received a list of stations participating in the series, but no dates. Each week I kept looking for Gettysburg and finally it popped up.

"I took over last August so you can see how long it has been. We're going to air it at 5:45 Monday night. I've put it in that time segment straight across the board Monday through Sunday.

"The station isn't very powerful but it covers the camp very adequately. When I first took over we were on the air only 81 hours a week. Last month we stepped it up to 105 hours a week and starting the 1st of November we hope to be on the air 18 hours a week seven days a week."

Cpl. Tipton wrote he expects to return here in about five months.

Littlestown VFW TO SPONSOR PARTY FOR KIDS

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, will sponsor a Halloween party for the elementary school children of Littlestown and vicinity on Friday, October 31, when the children are invited to attend a movie at the Towne Theater at 5:15 p.m. Following the movie, refreshments will be served at the rear of the VFW Home on W. King St. Admission to the movie will be by ticket for the school children. The tickets will be distributed in the Littlestown Grade School and St. Aloysius Parochial School in the near future. Children of pre-school age may attend the movie if they are accompanied by an adult.

The weekly meeting of the Junior Fellowship of the Centenary Methodist Church will be held on Monday evening at 7 o'clock at the church. It is expected to have an out-of-town speaker for the program.

The play presented annually by the Senior Class of the Littlestown High School will be given this year on October 24 at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. The production, a comedy in three acts, is entitled "Sound Your Horn," written by Howard Reed. The presentation will be directed by Miss Leora L. Held, of the faculty. The cast of characters will include: Drucilla, Myrna Fissel; Phyllis, Laura Stock; Etta Lamb, Shirley Jones; Mr. Angus, Dean Sell; Homer Bird, Robert Sites; Christine Elliott, Diane (Continued on Page 2)

EILEEN KANE DIES OF POLIO

Eileen Grace Kane, 19, daughter of Maurice W. and Dora Mae Kane, McKnightstown and Baltimore, died suddenly Friday in Baltimore from polio meningitis. She is reported to have become ill on Wednesday in Baltimore where she was employed.

Miss Kane graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1950. She appeared many times with the high school band at football games leading the mascot goat.

In addition to her parents she is survived by three sisters, Jean, Joanne and Deede, and two brothers, William and Joseph, all of Baltimore where she was employed.

Funeral services were held this morning at 9 o'clock at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Baltimore. Interment took place in the New Cathedral Cemetery, Baltimore.

KENNETH COLE TO GET EAGLE SCOUT AWARD

Kenneth Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cole, E. Stevens St., will receive the Eagle award of scouting at the annual rededication program held for Catholic Scouts at St. Patrick's cathedral, Harrisburg, Sunday afternoon.

Twenty-six members of Boy Scout Troop 78 of Gettysburg, accompanied by Scoutmaster Fred Faber, Jr., and other leaders, are to attend the ceremony which will attract several thousand Scouts from throughout the Harrisburg diocese. The local scouts will travel by bus to Harrisburg, leaving St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church here at 12:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Cole will be the only member of the local troop to receive recognition at the annual Rededication program. He will be presented with the Eagle badge, symbolizing the highest rank in Scouting, by the Most Rev. George L. Leech, Bishop of Harrisburg.

To Get Ad Altare Awards

A number of county scouts, from McSherrystown and other Catholic troops in the county are to receive Ad Altare Dei awards given by the diocese to scouts who have during the year advanced far enough in scouting rank, have given sufficient service to the church and have passed examinations in religious knowledge. Because all members of the local troop are at the present time young boys just starting in scouting, with the exception of Cole, no attempt was made by the local troop to have any of its scouts take the Ad Altare Dei award examination this year.

Rev. Joseph A. Bradley, of St. Joseph's Church, York, former assistant pastor here, will deliver the sermon at Sunday's service at 3 o'clock in the Cathedral. Prior to the service the scouts will parade through the streets of Harrisburg.

DR. I. THOMAS DIES SUDDENLY

Dr. Isaac Thomas, 68, professor of languages at Hill School, Pottstown, and brother of Edmund W. Thomas, president of the First National Bank, died suddenly in the bath room of his home in Pottstown Thursday evening.

Doctor Thomas received a scholarship to and graduated from Hill School and later from Princeton. After a post graduate course at Princeton he toured Europe for a year studying the people and languages of several countries. Upon his return to the states he joined the faculty at Hill School.

The deceased is well known in Gettysburg and some time ago addressed the local Rotary Club.

At the outbreak of the First World War, he enlisted and served in the field artillery as a lieutenant. When he returned to civilian life, he resumed his position as instructor at the school. He taught classes in the Bible, English, German history and algebra. In 1951 he was named alumni director.

He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Molly and Josephine, and one son, Isaac Jr., who is a fellowship student at the University of Paris.

Funeral services will be held from the Pottstown Episcopal Church, Monday afternoon.

FAREWELL PARTY TUESDAY

The congregational farewell party for the Rev. and Mrs. Wallace E. Fisher will be held in the social rooms of Christ Lutheran Church next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock instead of Wednesday evening as was previously reported.

Yanks Smash Red Foothold On Important Hill In Korea

SEOUL (AP) — American troops broke the last Chinese Communist foothold on Triangle Hill today in vicious, see-saw fighting on the Central Korean Front.

Two miles to the east, South Korean soldiers fought off three Chinese attacks on Sniper Ridge.

All day Saturday, Allied artillery hurled thunderous barrages at Red positions north of Triangle and Sniper. Allied warplanes roared down on Papa - san Mountain, dumping high explosives and flaming gasoline on the massive hill which the Reds use as a massing point for their assaults on Triangle and Sniper.

The Americans and ROKs launched the biggest Allied attack of 195 five days ago with the goal of winning and holding these two hill masses north of Kumhwa.

Eight B29 Superforts ran into heavy flak and rocket barrages and fought off at least seven Red night fighters early Saturday in a bombing attack on a Red Army headquarters at Tosong, in North-west Korea. All eight planes returned to their base on Okinawa.

Storm Pike's Peak
AP correspondent Milo Farnetti reported that U. S. Seventh Division troops stormed to the top of Pike's Peak, at the northwest corner of Triangle Hill, just after day-break.

Intense Red mortar and artillery fire forced them to fall back several hours later, Farnetti said, but the Americans counterattacked and recaptured the crest at 10:32 a. m.

Pike's Peak was the last Red stronghold on Triangle Hill. However, a few Chinese suicide troops still were holding out in scattered caves and dug-out positions.

COUPLE MARKS ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Levi J. Deardorff, 146 Hanover St., observed their 60th wedding anniversary Monday, on which date Mrs. Deardorff also observed her 83rd birthday.

The celebrants were married October 13, 1892, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Fidler, in Straban Township by the Rev. J. M. Wright, pastor of Bender's Lutheran Church.

Mr. Deardorff is the son of the late Anthony Deardorff and Anna May Hull Deardorff, of near New Oxford. He was born November 22, 1863. He remembers when he earned "two dollars a month working on a local farm in the summer and working for his board in the winter."

Party This Evening
Mr. Deardorff later purchased a farm where he remained until 1913. The couple resided on the Harrisburg Road. In 1913 he began working for the Reaser Furniture Company of Gettysburg where he remained until about five years ago. One thing he recalls with pride is that "he never missed an election."

The celebrants have one child, Mrs. John D. Settle, of Seven Stars, and three grandchildren, Mrs. Anna Mary Mitchell, Laurel, Md.; Levi Plank, Dillsburg; and M. Sgt. Orlo J. Plank, of El Paso, Texas. There are three great-grandchildren. By a second marriage of Mrs. Settle, there are two other grandchildren, Mrs. Donald Crone, Orttanna, and Harold Crone of Gettysburg, and three additional great-grandchildren.

A party will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Settle, Seven Stars, this evening with the serving of a buffet supper for immediate relatives.

GOP CHAIRMAN LISTS MEETINGS

County Republican Chairman John H. Baschore today announced seven meetings of local committeemen, Republican workers, Citizens for Eisenhower groups and any one else interested in the campaign. At the meetings the county chairman distributes literature and makes arrangements for getting out the vote at the November 4 election.

The sessions will include:
Monday, 8 p.m., second floor of the Bendersville National Bank, for the borough of Bendersville, Tyrone No. 2 and Huntington No. 2.

Tuesday, 7 p.m., Biglerville National Bank, Biglerville workers; 8 p.m., at Butler Twp. election house for Butler Twp. workers.

Wednesday, 8 p.m., home of Edward Hawk, Prince St. Littlestown, for workers in Littlestown, Germany and Union Twp.

Thursday, 7 p.m., Fairfield election house, for workers in the Fairfield, Hamiltonban No. 1 and Liberty Twp. districts; 8 p.m., Cashtown engine house for workers in Franklin Twp. and Hamiltonban No. 2.

Chairman Baschore added that he has available at his office on Baltimore St. all types of campaign literature, buttons, etc. for those wishing such material.

MISS LAWVER

Kint, Biglerville, sister of the groom, will be the bridesmaid. They will wear strapless ballgown-length gowns of shrimp similar to that of the maid of honor. Their hats are of shrimp and they will carry arm bouquets of white and yellow chrysanthemums with olive green streamers.

Miss Patricia Bower, York, niece of the bride, will be the flower girl. She will be attired in a short-length dress of white organdy, and will wear a band of yellow pompons in her hair. She will carry a basket of matching flowers and strew rose petals along the way.

Reception To Follow
Larry Lawver, Biglerville, will be the best man and the ushers are Ronald Rice, Biglerville, and Edwin Lawver, Gettysburg, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother will wear a teal blue street-length dress with black accessories and an orchid corsage. The mother of the groom has chosen a navy blue street-length dress and black accessories with an orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception will be held for 175 relatives and friends in the church social rooms. After a honeymoon to an unannounced destination, the couple will reside in their newly-furnished apartment at the home of the bride. For her going-away ensemble the bride will wear a beige suit with brown accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Biglerville High School with the class of 1951. The bride is employed at the Duffy-Mott Co., Inc., Aspers, and the groom is employed at Gettler's Bakery, Biglerville.

BANKERS TOLD

sure all of us have learned that. One thing everyone seems to have is a sense of spiritual insecurity. Our fears are expressed in many ways. We begin to feel uncertain when we cannot cope with what we cannot cope."

Two Roads To Goal
Dr. Voss said there are two means of gaining a goal, the "barking shins" method, "with eyes only on the goal, forgetting all the problems in the way, and the other of thinking only of what is about us and indulging in wandering in circles instead of reaching the goal.

"Man does not live by bread alone," Dr. Voss said. "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and all these things shall come unto you. Some want to worship false gods. If we follow the words of Socrates, Zenos and Christ, 'Control Thyself, Know Thyself and Give Thyself,' we will be drawing on powers that will lift us literally as the moon lifts the tides."

Dr. Voss paid tribute to the observance today of Lincoln's visit to Gettysburg and his Gettysburg Address.

"This is a memento which stands out in history, and you are justly proud as you celebrate. Lincoln's thoughts are in the minds of both presidential candidates. They are conscious of that moment in 1863.

"A Blessed Nations"
"Is there anyone of us who is not aware that this is indeed a blessed land as the nation turns its eyes on Gettysburg, as you celebrate the 89th anniversary of the Gettysburg Address, the 100th anniversary of the Western Maryland Railway and your own shareholders dinner here tonight?"

Mr. Thomas, as toastmaster, welcomed the shareholders and guests and extended greetings on behalf of the bank. "The purpose of this dinner," he said "is to get better acquainted. The dinner gives us an opportunity to thank you for your cooperation and patronage. I would be remiss if I did not thank you for your part in the upbuilding of your bank."

Mr. Thomas quoted several figures to show the financial security of the institution. In the period from January 2, 1952, to October 4, 1952, he said, the bank made 575 new loans totaling $2,255,620.44 and in the same period 247 personal installment loans of $103,860.92. "We are meeting the needs of the 'little fellow,'" he said.

Other Loans
"In the same period, loans paid totaled $1,920,956.08 and personal loans paid, $96,052.86. Money is serving the legitimate needs of a great many people. Farm mortgage loans were $252,291.14, city loans $228,313.03 and miscellaneous loans $298,008.51. The total of so-called GI mortgage loans was, farm, $24,854; city, $164,724.89 and miscellaneous, $1,540.

Between January 2, 1952, and September 5, 1952, the bank showed an increase in deposits of 9 per cent, and the ratio of loans to deposits was 42.48, Mr. Thomas said.

"Your bank is built on a solid rock, with a clientele of satisfied customers," he concluded.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Victor K. Meredith Jr., and the benediction by the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh.

DEATHS

Isaac H. Butt
Isaac H. Butt, 82, South Hadley Falls, Mass., plumber, died Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Begley, West Springfield, Mass., after a short illness.

Mr. Butt was a native of Gettysburg and was a son of the late William and Elizabeth Snyder Butt. Before his retirement in 1932, he had been a plumber for 40 years. Funeral services were held Wednesday at South Hadley Falls and interment was made there.

Mr. Butt's wife died a number of years ago but these brothers and sisters survive: Miss Irene Butt, Gettysburg; Mrs. Charles Heltzel, Gettysburg; R. D. Joseph Butt, Gettysburg; and Harry Butt, Woronoco, Mass.

Edward H. Snyder
Edward H. Snyder Jr., 81, founder of Snyder's Bakery, Inc., died Friday at 9:55 a.m. at his home, 238 Centennial Ave., Hanover, after a lingering illness.

Mr. Snyder started the business at his home about 25 years ago. Prior to 1926 Mr. Snyder was associated with his father, the late Edward H. Snyder, in operation of the former Snyder Brick yards in Hanover. His mother was the late Mrs. Anna Marie Smaling Snyder. Mr. Snyder was a member of Friends' Ship Fire Company, Pennville. His wife, Mrs. Edna Fridinger Snyder, died 12 years ago.

Surviving are six children, Mrs. H. V. Lochner, Lebanon; Edward H. Snyder III, Hanover; Mrs. D. H. Williams at home; Mrs. Lachien W. Krebs, New Oxford; R. D. Joseph Butt, Gettysburg; and Mrs. Elmer Shaffer, Reisterstown, Md., and Mrs. C. H. Sterner, Hanover; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services Monday at 1:30 a.m. at the Snyder home, Rev. J. B. Reed Jr., former pastor of Lohr's Memorial EUB Church, will officiate. Interment in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Men are five times as likely to be color blind as women.

GHS Routs Shippensburg For 32-6 Conference Win

Tallying three touchdowns in the first period, the Gettysburg High School gridirons routed the Shippensburg Greyhounds 32-6 in a one-sided affair at Shippensburg Friday night before approximately 2,000 fans for their fifth win in six starts and their third South Penn Conference triumph.

Despite victory the Warriors dropped into second place in the conference standing, being replaced by Chambersburg who topped the Hanover High eleven 28-6. Next Friday the Trojans meet the Warriors on the local field.

It took the Warriors 4:50 minutes to tally in the first period on a 39-yard scamper by Bobby Miller.

After Shippensburg returned Bill Knox's opening kickoff to the Greyhound 30, Dick Spitzko got through for a first down on the 41. Gettysburg braced and forced Long to punt. Wayne Tonsel returning the ball from his own 38 to the 43 from where the initial touchdown drive was launched.

Miller Starts Scoring
Miller and Bobby Rohrbach picked up seven yards on two tries and "Skip" Fisel slipped through the line for a first down on the Shippensburg 44. After Miller got five yards through the right side of the line, a pass was incomplete. On the next play Miller (circled left end) went the entire way to hit pay dirt. Knox's placement for the point was blocked by Rhone.

A short time later George Penn intercepted a Greyhound pass on the 35 but Frye recovered a fumble for Shippensburg on the Gettysburg 38. John Carter broke through to spill Kling for a 10-yard loss. Spitzko was dumped for a three-yard loss and after a pass fell incomplete Long attempted to punt. John Carter charged through to block the kick and Jim Skinner scooped up the ball and galloped 30 yards for a TD. Knox's kick for the point was wide.

Carter, Skinner Again
The combination of John Carter and Skinner teamed up for another score two minutes later. Gruver returned Penn's kickoff to the Shippensburg 27. Three tries produced six yards and then Long attempted to pass. Carter blocked the throw and Skinner grabbed the ball and again romped across from the 25. Penn's boot for the point was wide.

Early in the second quarter Tonsel took Long's punt and recovered his own fumble on the Gettysburg 1-yard line. Three plays later Fisel punted to Spitzko who fumbled and Ronnie Williams recovered for Gettysburg on the Warriors' 38.

Coach Shoemaker's lads marched from that point for their fourth tally. Williams and Miller picked up a first down on the Shippensburg 49 and then Fisel fired a pass to Stanton Musser for another first down on the 17. From there Miller raced around left end for his second six-pointer. Penn booted the point.

Tonsel Goes 55
Late in the third period Wayne Tonsel turned in the longest TD run of the game. Shippensburg held and took over on its 28 yard line from where Rhone and Spitzko sparked a drive good for a pair of first downs on the Gettysburg 46. Gruver was tossed for a four-yard loss and then picked up the yardage on the next play. A jarring tackle of a Greyhound ball carrier by Skinner resulted in the ball popping into the air and Tonsel grabbed the leather and streaked 55 yards for the score. Penn booted his second extra point.

Early in the fourth period a pair of fumbles were exchanged deep in Greyhound territory. Shippensburg reeled off three straight first downs from their own 36 to reach the Gettysburg 21 where Bobby Rohrbach pounced on a fumble.

After being stymied Penn punted to Weaver on the Gettysburg 45 and he returned to the locals' 37.

The Greyhounds moved from that spot against the Gettysburg second stringers for their lone tally. Weaver and Rhone picked up a pair of first downs to reach the 10 from where Gruver circled right end. Rhone's boot for the point failed.

NEWPORT TOPS THUNDERBOLT GRIDDERS 20-0

After battling to an evenly waged and scoreless first half, the Littlestown High Thunderbolts yielded three touchdowns in the last half and bowed to Newport 20-0 Friday night before a large crowd at Littlestown.

After he had raced 90 yards for an apparent score on the kickoff to start the second half, Rice, Newport back, was called back when a clipping penalty was imposed on Newport.

However, four minutes later Rice broke into the clear and streaked 70 yards for the tally. Bollinger passed to Rice for the point.

Late in the same period Newport started a sustained drive which finally ended up with Rice plunking over from the 2-yard mark early in the last period. Again the Bollinger-Rice pass combination clicked for the point.

Pass, Lateral Clicks
Midway in the final period Bollinger passed to Rice who lateraled to Fisher which was good for 50 yards and a TD. Fisher's kick for the point was low.

The Thunderbolts did not make any serious scoring threat but put up a fine game against their rugged opponents. Each team collected seven first downs.

The "Bolts" completed three of 10 aerials with Newport connecting on two of five.

Next Friday Littlestown meets Kennard-Dale on the latter's field in a Laurel conference engagement. The lineup:

WILDCATS, RAMS STILL UNBEATEN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two Pennsylvania football powerhouses — each in its own class — still were rolling along unbeaten, untied and very impressive today.

Villanova, bidding for top national recognition, racked up win No. 5 with a 28-7 conquest of Boston College at Boston. It was the biggest score yet this season for the Wildcats.

In another league, the Rams of West Chester State Teachers College turned on an 11-touchdown scoring romp to thump Lock Haven Teachers 74-6 at West Chester. It was the third win this season for the Rams, their 27th in a row at home, and stamped them as outstanding in the Teachers College conference.

One other Pennsylvania team was in action last night, Wilkes College dropping a 20-13 decision to Hofstra.

BUCCERONI IS SQUEAK WINNER

NEW YORK (AP)—Hard-hitting, Danny Bucceroni was offered a Garden bout with Rex Layne today following his narrow squeak over husky Dave Davey.

The lanky Philadelphia heavyweight, making his first start after a five-month layoff, beat the 22-year Tacoma, Wash., lad on the strength of a nine-count knockdown in the second round of their ten rounder at St. Nicholas Arena last night.

Bucceroni acted like he had beaten a contender instead of a rookie.

"Sure I'll take Layne," he said after matchmaker Billy Brown offered him a December bout with the Rocky Mountain contender. "I'd like to get Rocky Marciano or anybody else."

"I never thought the fight was as close as the officials had it," Bucceroni added.

Both judges, Arthur Aida and Jack O'Sullivan scored the fight even in rounds, 4-4-7, but gave the nod to Bucceroni on points. Aida's points were 7-5 while O'Sullivan had it 6-4. Referee Al Berle had Bucceroni the winner on rounds, 5-4-1. The AP scorecard agreed with the referee's.

It was Davey's debut on a national television fight show and he was downcast over his defeat.

The crowd of 2,428 paid $5.389.

MIDGET GRID GAME SUNDAY

BALTIMORE (AP)—Teams from Shamokin, Pa., and Baltimore will meet in a Midget Boys football bowl game here tomorrow.

The second annual game is sponsored by the Optimists Club. It will be played in Baltimore's Municipal stadium for the benefit of youth recreation.

The Red Shield club will represent Baltimore against 36 players from the Shamokin-Coke Township midget league. The boys are between 9 and 12 years old with a maximum weight of 110.

Red Shield won 6-0 in a similar contest last year.

The Pennsylvania visitors arrive today and will be given the treatment of a college bowl team. Included is a parade through a shopping district with the bowl queen.

Accompanying the B. H. M. K. I. team is a band with Bonnie MacGibeny, a champion drum major, from Gettysburg College.

EB Booters Win Final Game 5-2

Early "Rhubarb" In Ice Hockey Season

By The Associated Press
The 1952-53 American Hockey League season is only three days old but already there's been one "rhubarb."

The campaign's first dispute occurred last night as the Cleveland Barons shaded the defending champion Pittsburgh Hornets, 2-1, on a disputed goal by Ike Hildebrand in the third period.

Goal judge Jack Powell ruled that Hornet goalie Gil Mayer had stopped Hildebrand's shot with his hand but referee Bill Morrison overruled the judge and called it a goal.

Canner Freshmen Lose 20-13 Game

The Biglerville High School freshmen lost a 20-13 decision to the Washington Township frosh gridirers Friday afternoon at Biglerville. After leading 13-6 at half time, the Cannons gave up a pair of touchdowns to the invaders in the third period.

YWCA. The dinner is being sponsored by local groups interested in the Community Chest and the cost will not come out of Community Chest funds.

Several district chairmen have already announced their list of solicitors.

Mrs. George Olinger, chairman for Area Three, which includes the area from Lincoln Square on Chambersburg St. to West St., from West St. to Middle, east on Middle to Franklin, from Franklin to High, from High to Baltimore and on Baltimore to the Square, has announced the following as canvassers: Mrs. Charles Jacobs, Mrs. Henrietta Blocher, Mrs. David Baker, Mrs. Floyd King, Mrs. Holbert Ritz, George Olinger, Mrs. Harold Wentz, Mrs. John Acker, Miss Gloria Bolen and Mrs. Richard Naugle.

Mrs. W. R. Sammel, chairman for Area Eight, which includes the section from Stratton St. east and bounded by York and Hanover Sts., has listed as her solicitors Rev. W. R. Sammel, Mrs. Jessie Easterday, Mrs. James Howe and Mrs. William Pinsky.

Named as members of the "call back" committee by Mrs. J. I. Heret, chairman, are Miss Sara Larson, Mrs. Guile W. Lefever, Mrs. Sydney Poppay, Mrs. John Welshon and James Thomas.

GIANTS, 49ERS RISK RECORDS
NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants and San Francisco 49ers, prospecting many years for professional football gold and glory, place their spotless records and championship hopes on the line tomorrow in a five-game National Football League program.

Coach Steve Owen's Giants, seeking their first crown since 1938, take on the dangerous Chicago Cardinals in the feature game in the American Conference.

The 49ers, who never have won a divisional title, clash with the Bears in Chicago in the big game of the National Conference. Both the Giants and 49ers boast 3-0 records and triumph tomorrow will greatly enhance their chances of meeting for the league championship Dec. 21.

Other games tomorrow find Cleveland at Philadelphia, Los Angeles at Detroit and Washington at Pittsburgh. Green Bay and Dallas meet in the Texas city tonight.

BILL LOOMIS DIES
SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—William Anson (Bill) Loomis, perhaps the last of the law officers who dealt with the bandits of the old West, died yesterday.

He was personally acquainted with such figures as Jesse James, Billy the Kid and Wyatt Earp. He claimed to have officiated at 15 hangings.

General Motors officials introduced include Mac Merritt, Detroit, public relations department of General Motors; E. A. Bracken, Buffalo, regional public relations representative; Bill Buckley, Harrisburg, GMAC representative; C. J. Day, Harrisburg, MIC representative, and others. The GM officials and Unity Films representatives plus Richard Warren, Glenn L. Bream and A. E. Hutchison, local GM dealers, and a number of other local people connected with the film were guests at a dinner held at Banker's Restaurant prior to the showing. At that banquet Mr. Danek told them of the premiere showing held Wednesday at the PFA national convention in Kansas City.

The beautifully photographed film, in color and sound, depicted how "Walt Peabody," played by Mike Wertz, assisted by his PFA chapter, made a success of farming after his father, played by Mr. Sterner, decided to quit farming, but agreed to give his son a year's chance.

USE SALT IN NEW ROAD HERE

Under the direction of J. William Kendelhart, state highway superintendent for Adams County, representatives of the International Salt Co. constructed a new type of stabilized highway in the county Thursday, using local materials with the addition of rock salt, as an experiment and test of the development of a higher type of secondary road. Materials were blade-mixed with water. The road selected was in the eastern part of the county.

The interest of officials of the State Highway Department was indicated by the presence of L. D. Lambert, assistant chief maintenance engineer; M. S. Brumbaugh, his assistant; A. J. Bedard, district engineer and his assistant, R. E. Elsminger, and the district maintenance engineer, W. E. Brantthoffer.

Other interested groups included township road supervisors, M. E. Ryon, district manager of the salt company, J. M. Gallagher, industrial engineer and S. J. Duncan, the salt company's highway development engineer.

If this test road demonstrates its ability to retain a hard and smooth riding surface, the state will be in position to help the townships as well as its own forces to economically and efficiently achieve better highways, Mr. Ryon said.

BOYS NABBED AS AUTO THIEVES

Two Westminster boys, 15 and 17, picked up by state police for the theft of an automobile in Westminster Wednesday night, were released Friday by Adams County authorities to Maryland state police for prosecution in that state on the car theft charge, state police of the Gettysburg substation said today. Waivers for their release were granted in juvenile court here.

State police gave credit to Mrs. Wilbert Schue, Littlestown, with her husband, operates a restaurant near the Bethlehem quarries, for the arrests. She called state police Thursday night when the two boys ran out of gas at the restaurant and acted suspiciously. They had no money, police said.

When police arrived the boys had left. Later Mrs. Schue saw them on a street in Hanover and told a Hanover police officer, who picked them up. They were questioned by Pennsylvania state police and Cpl. James Simmons of the Maryland State Police, Pikesville, before being lodged in the Adams County jail until their release Friday.

The stolen car, police said, was owned by Bernard DeCourcy, Westminster. Questioning revealed that the boys had stolen another car in Westminster earlier in the week and had abandoned it, police said.

WOMEN DEBATE ADLAI CEMENTS ACCORD WITH TEX. DEMOCRATS complained: "But we've never had such corruption with approval in high places, such denials that corruption exists and such failure to expedite law enforcement."

Miss Blatt, whose late arrival from an earlier speaking engagement in Spring Grove delayed the opening of the debate, urged her hearers to listen to candidates of both parties and congratulated the AAW on planning the public debate.

Greatest Red Threat In '32
Calling attention to the old Democratic principle of the rights and dignity of the individual, Miss Blatt said she does not claim for Phillips a monopoly "of all that is good and right in the world and in government, but I am proud of the party's underlying philosophy."

In the last 20 years, she said, her party has brought "a better life for more people and saved our economic system." She stated that the Communist party had its highest membership in the U. S. in 1932 and that our country was nearer revolution then than at any time since "with the Democratic party meeting the challenge of the Communist menace."

She listed bank deposit insurance and social security as Democratic achievements, fought by most Republicans, but now accepted by all.

Declaring that the preservation of peace and maintenance of prosperity at home are the chief aims of the Democratic party, she said peace can be attained only "by unrelenting efforts to prevent war, by keeping our own and our neighbors' strength up and by meeting aggression with force wherever it appears."

She cited Greece and Turkey as places where the Reds had been checked and said that without the Marshall Plan France and Italy would be behind the Iron Curtain now.

Talk About State
She said "we're fighting in Korea because that where the Reds moved and there was not a voice of protest raised when the U. S. troops went into action in Korea. Peace must be bought with a price and if Korea is the price, then that's the way it has to be," she declared.

She turned briefly to conditions in the state, complained that the GOP wrote no platform this year and thereby "insulted" the voters and said under GOP rule "Pennsylvania has its highest budget, biggest payroll and largest debt in its history."

Most of the rebuttal remarks had to do with state affairs. Mrs. Morrow said the high debt was inherited from the Earle administration and a result of the soldiers' bonus and that the numbers of employees was higher than now at the end of the Earle administration.

Read "29 Questions"
Miss Blatt wanted to know why the Republicans promised no new state taxes in their 1950 platform and then asked for 135 million in new revenue and wound up by reading her famous "29 questions" that she has been asking across the state in the current campaign.

Mrs. Morrow explained as "practical politics" Eisenhower's endorsement of McCarthy and Jenner.

Mrs. Forrest Craver presided at the meeting with about 100 present.

TEN YEARS AGO
Russ Gilbert Resigns Post: C. Russell Gilbert, member of the Gettysburg high school faculty for the last eight years, submitted his resignation to the Gettysburg school board at the directors' October meeting Monday evening. The board accepted the resignation with regret.

Gilbert stated to the board in his letter of resignation that he has accepted a position "in industry."

Assumes New Post: Mrs. Helen Corbett, Carlisle street, began her duties Thursday morning as secretary to the county rationing board. She formerly was employed in the business office at The Gettysburg Times. Mrs. Corbett is the second secretary assigned to the county board. The other is Mrs. Mildred J. Weaver.

Soldier-Attorney Admitted to Bar: Lieutenant Henry W. A. Hanson, Jr., was admitted to the Dauphin county bar Tuesday at Harrisburg. The procedure is automatic, graduates of Dickinson law school being admitted to practice without examination upon their entrance into the service.

100 Sign for Factory Work: Prospects for a shoe factory for Fairfield are growing more promising daily, leaders of the new Fairfield Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the move, reported as they announced that more than 100 prospective factory workers already have registered.

L. E. Beaudin, president of the L. E. Beaudin Shoe company of Hanover, now in New York at a shoe show, is expected to confer next week with officers of the Fairfield civic group which have control of the community hall there.

Rummel-Plank: Miss Gladys G. Plank, daughter of Mrs. Christine Plank, Gettysburg, and Robert G. Rummel, son of Mrs. Roy Rummel, Biglerville, were united in marriage Thursday afternoon in Westminster by the Rev. Lowell S. Enser.

Mr. Rummel will report for active duty with the United States Army at Fort Meade, Maryland, Monday.

Lefever Gets District Post: G. W. Lefever was elected as the second vice president of the Southern Convention district of the Pennsylvania State Education association at the district's seventeenth annual convention which was held Friday afternoon and evening at Shippensburg.

L. C. Keefe was advanced to the presidency of the district superintendent and supervising principal's department, after serving last year as vice president.

Robert A. Bream was chosen as vice president of the county superintendents' department and Miss Dorothy M. Warner is the new president of the special education department.

Stalingrad Is Facing Her Darkest Hour: By Henry C. Cassidy — Moscow, Oct. 17 (AP)—Red Army troops, defiant against odds, had forced four retreats through a strategically important industrial section of north Stalingrad, battled fiercely today to prevent the Germans from fanning out along the banks of the Volga and breaking the flanks of the defense.

Stalingrad was experiencing her darkest hour of siege.

The Germans occupied an industrial settlement which had been a battlefield for weeks about the city's heart and attempted to expand both north and south against the Soviet flanks.

The Russians destroyed everything of value before leaving the settlement and their withdrawal was orderly, the Ivestia said.

Buys Stock: J. C. Shank, proprietor of the Gettysburg Hardware store, has purchased the entire stock, excepting the paint, of the Luther I. Sachs Hardware store, York street.

2 Flags Put in Xavier Church for "Duration": Two silk flags, the Stars and Stripes of the United States, and the White and Gold Papal flag, mounted on ten-foot standards, were blessed by the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock at a solemn high mass at St. Francis Xavier church Sunday morning and placed in the sanctuary of the church "for the duration of the war."

THE JOY OF READING
There is no joy in life that gives so much satisfaction, and which will stay by you under all vicissitudes of fate, as will the reading of good books. Edward Gibbon, the great historian, once said: "I would not change my invincible love of reading for all the treasures of India."

The habit of reading once formed, will never leave you — and you will rejoice in the fact that it will not. No matter where we may be and no matter what our mood, there is always a book that will bring hope, comfort, information or just pure entertainment. There are books in my library that thrill me just to glance at them, for they recall what they have meant to me.

It's the contents of a book that make it great, but I confess to a love of beautiful printing, hand-made papers, and exquisite bindings. Many of my favorite books I have in special editions. I like to take them in my hands, for they are treasures indeed. They seem to doubly inspire when royally clothed!

So personal and warming are many books that it is difficult to believe that their authors, in many cases long dead, do not still live. I would like to have them known how their books have given me courage, enlarged my vision, and helped me to help others. Many authors have left but a single poem — but what an influence is left behind, and how it spreads with the years!

There is no remedy so sure and so unailing to those, who find it difficult to sleep happily, as the habit of reading briefly from a great book. It is rare that I do not read something comforting and inspiring each night before I retire. Reading is mental and spiritual medicine. Once this joy of reading is established it will never be discontinued.

Many a book in my library has been presented to me by some friend, but I look upon all of them as acquired friends. All great books are dear friends. Their authors keep living anew in all who have been influenced by them. Good books nourish the mind, and are as essential as food to the body.

MEN'S FURNISHINGS

On shops where males buy

needful things:

The signboard reads: "Men's Furnishings."

But men require more stuff than that.

What counts is what's beneath the hat.

The shop can furnish suit and tie

To anyone who comes to buy.

But furnish him it never can

With traits that truly mark the man.

Not all the outward finery

Of manhood is a guarantee.

No haberdasher can provide

What furnishes esteem and pride.

No shop has courage kept for sale

To bolster him if he should fail.

No stock of patience on a shelf.

The man must these supply himself.

TRUMAN CALLS IKE'S SPEECHES "CONTEMPTIBLE"

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Aboard Truman Train (AP)—President Truman said today that Dwight D. Eisenhower has sunk so low as to hold out "a false hope to the mothers of America in an effort to pick up a few votes."

Truman called that "a cruel and deceitful" action and "a contemptible thing to do."

"I honestly believe that he refused to play politics with our foreign policy — especially that part of it which involves the sacrifice our American boys are making in Korea," the President asserted. "But I was wrong about that."

Repeated Prediction
He delivered his newest blast at the GOP presidential nominee in an address prepared for delivery at Providence, R. I., in the course of a day of campaigning by train and automobile in New England. He goes into New York for three speeches tonight.

Truman predicted, as he did at Providence four years ago, a Democratic victory.

"As usual," he said, "you Democrats of Rhode Island are going to be right up there at the head of the procession."

Says Ike "Sunk Pretty Low"
He said the Democratic nominee, Adlai Stevenson, is talking sensibly about the issues while Eisenhower "makes no secret of the fact that he is trying to play on our emotions."

"And he has sunk pretty low in that emotional campaign, as I'm going to prove to you," Truman declared.

Meantime, the President worked to complete one of the heaviest campaign schedules he has ever undertaken as his rousing New England reception neared a close.

Storms Of Applause

He stirred storms of applause in Boston's Symphony Hall last night with a charge that Eisenhower, by his support of GOP Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin and Sen. William Jenner of Indiana, has endorsed a "reign of terror by slander."

The audience hissed and booed the names of the two senators whom he called "moral pygmies."

He told Rhode Islanders in today's prepared address:

"I was bitterly disappointed a few days ago when the Republican candidate for president told the people of the United States a cruel and deceitful thing."

"You remember what he said. He said we ought to pull our soldiers out of the fighting in Korea and let the South Korean Army fight the Red Chinese hordes alone."

Holds Out "False Hope"
"That sounded like a promise, and he meant for it to sound that way. It sounded like something he would do right away. But it was just an empty campaign speech to get votes."

"I know what his words sounded like to the mothers and fathers of this country. They sounded like words of hope, of relief and comfort from worry and heartache."

"That's what made them so cruel. The Republican candidate for president held out a false hope to the mothers of America, in an effort to pick up a few votes. That was a contemptible thing to do."

Would Mean Red Victory
"It was irresponsible, because the Republican candidate knows that we can not pull our American troops out of Korea now. We can't do it unless we are willing to say to Stalin, 'We quit — you win.'"

Truman said that Eisenhower knows the South Koreans "can not stand up against the entire Red Chinese Army."

"He knows better — and when he talks about pulling out of Korea, he is deliberately playing partisan politics with something that ought to be above partisan politics," the President continued.

Corporal Chrismers is a son of Mrs. Thomas Gebhart by a former marriage, and the late Albert Chrismers, of Bonneauville.

At York: Mrs. R. S. Saby, Mrs. C. E. Zillemer, Mrs. Anna Plank and Mrs. Victor Dutera represented the Gettysburg chapter of the D.A.R. at the state conference, which was held in York the past week. . . .

PROMOTION FOR A. VISHINSKY

MOSCOW (AP)—Andrei Y. Vishinsky's long service to the Soviet Union led Friday to his selection as an alternate member of the Communist party's ruling Presidium—the highest post he ever has held in the party.

He had been a member of the party Central Committee but never had been on the Politburo. His new party post would be equal to an alternate membership on the old Politburo, now abolished.

Vishinsky has long been his country's principal spokesman in the United Nations and has been foreign minister since March 5, 1949, when he replaced V. M. Molotov, who became the No. 1 deputy prime minister.

Vishinsky, who is 68, was a late comer to the Bolshevik party, not being accepted until 1920. He rose to prominence as a prosecutor in the great purge trials of 1936, 1937 and 1938. He entered the Foreign Ministry in 1940 as Molotov's chief deputy.

Some of Vishinsky's top aides also were given leading party posts. They are Andrei A. Bromnyk, ambassador to London; Georgi Zarubin, ambassador to Washington; Alexander S. Pan-yushkin, ambassador to Peiping; and Jacob A. Malik, formerly the chief U. N. representative; all made alternate members of the party Central Committee.

ADAMS APPLES PLAYED UP IN BANK'S REVIEW

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Apples won headlines today in "The Business Review," monthly publication of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia.

The Review, which usually concentrates its discussions on high-level business and economic trends, ranging from stock market analyses to discussions of such matters as "recovery in the primary metal industries" and department store sales and business loans, took a harvest-time look at the orchards, pointing out that Pennsylvania stands sixth in the nation among apple-producing states.

The article pointed out that most of the Key State production is concentrated in the South Mountain area of Adams, Franklin, Cumberland and York counties. And it observed that:

"Do Very Well"
"On the whole, South Mountain apple growers do very well. They have not taken the downward slide of apple consumption and that is because they process (pack or can) a large percentage of their apples."

"Three score and two years ago when the census counted the country's apples trees, Pennsylvania ranked third. Today, the Commonwealth ranks sixth among the leading apple-producing states. Thus the state has slipped a few notches in the country's apple economy, but it is not necessarily an irreversible trend."

Of course Pennsylvania apple growers are not engaged in an interstate race. They grow apples partly for fun but mainly for money. As long as they can make more money growing apples than anything else they will grow apples."

6,000,000 Bushels
Recent reports indicate that the Pennsylvania crop this year will be a trifle short of six million bushels, only three fourths of last year's harvest and about one eighth below the 1941-50 average, the Review said.

Value of the Pennsylvania apple crop varies from nine million dollars in poor years to 20 million dollars or better in good years, the Review noted. When conditions are good Pennsylvania produces around 10 million bushels as in 1949 and a few other recent years. When things go wrong, the crop may be less than 2½ million bushels as in 1945.

That, said the Review, "is the way pomology—very good or very bad or somewhere between those extremes, but never normal."

Special Mention For Adams
Berks and Lehigh counties, and Erie in the Northwest, are cited by the publication as important apple growing centers outside the South Mountain area. Adams is the top producer, yielding about one fifth of the total state output. Erie County production is declining.

The county's production, the Review estimates "is enough to bake about 25 million apple pies."

While concentrating on apples, the publication notes that peaches are another major fruit crop in the apple country. But because peach harvest runs too close to the apple season, growers recently have been turning instead to orchards of sour cherry trees.

RESUMPTION OF MINING OR BIG STRIKE AHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP)—A full resumption of soft coal production or an almost certain all-out strike hung in the balance as the Wage Stabilization Board got set for a vote early today on legality of the recent $1.90 daily wage boost for John L. Lewis' 350,000 miners.

Public members of the WSB, headed by Chairman Archibald Cox, held the balance of power on the tri-partite panel. Labor members were sure to call the wage hike justifiable under government stabilization policy and industry members appeared certain to oppose it as inflationary.

Cox was silent on his own thinking but persons closest to the case cautiously predicted majority approval of the Lewis-soft coal contract.

A popular reason for not changing to a new set of tires is failure to have the job handy.

Not What It Seems

I have been surprised lately to discover how many drivers — new ones, of course — believe that the front end of the car is the portion that gets out of control, in a skid. They have asked what should be done when the front end noses this way or that. Through lack of experience they do not know that it is the rear end of the car that does the skidding act. In a true steering skill the car's front tires fail to grip enough to follow the road on a slippery turn, and the car then runs straight off the road. But that is exceptional. Most skidding finds the rear end trying to overtake the front end, to the right or the left. When this happens, steer the front wheels in the direction the rear end is sliding. Do not accelerate the motor, and be careful not to decelerate abruptly. Don't use the brakes until the car is moving in a straight line again, and then apply the brakes intermittently by pumping on the pedal. It isn't easy. That's why the smart thing always is to avoid those driving practices which bring on skidding.

The Motor Primer

For the benefit of those who do not know why supercharging is desirable in racing, or where top speed and power are desired, perhaps it will clear up the matter to speak of volumetric efficiency which is the measure of the engine's ability to consume a charge of gas mixture. This depends on the size of the valve ports in the engine, the speed of its pistons, the speed of valve action and of course the atmospheric pressure. The engine of your car will reach a point where it will take in so much air and gas and no more. Engineers go beyond this point with forced feeding. They call it supercharging.

It Could Be Worse

If you have been biting your nails and lamenting the number of troubles your car has somehow or other managed to develop, just consider the things we no longer have to worry about. I am thinking especially of the squealing of universal joints. This seldom is heard these days, largely because points are pretty much sealed with their original lubricant. In the old days I used to have to climb under and force laundry soap into badly worn joints, or face a breakdown.

There used to be a sharp cracking noise when the front wheels were turned all the way to the right or left, if the front spring shackles were worn. Today there are no front spring shackles due to use of coil springs.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Adjusting a front wheel calls for more patience and skill if a new grease retainer has been installed. These retainers are made of felt and when installed they provide temporary resistance to free turning of the wheel. This resistance must be taken into account and not be confused with actual over-tightening of the wheels. If the wheels seem on the snug side they should be rechecked after driving a few miles when the truer situation is more likely to be revealed. In tightening a wheel it is customary to draw the wheel nut up tight and then back it off until the wheel just spins freely."

Witnessing a drop in gas mileage after a carburetor overhaul was naturally a disappointment to a friend of mine, but the situation was easily explained and easily corrected. It appears that in the process of cleaning the jets the high speed opening for the fuel was accidentally enlarged. The particular jet should have been replaced but slips will occur. Net effect of the job was to increase gas consumption. There was some increase in high speed performance, but the driver had no occasion to open her up and didn't get any kick out of this feature of the situation. A new jet corrected everything. From that point on gas mileage improved.

May Cause Oil Waste

Without mentioning his make of car one reader tells me that the service manual warns against trying to tighten cylinder head nuts without knowing the proper sequence. Then it adds a special note. It warns that if the head isn't drawn down properly it may develop a leak that will encourage engine oil to suck up into one of the cylinders. This may surprise you, but not if you already know that a loose spark plug will have the same effect. In the case of a loose cylinder head the oil loss effect is less common because usually any head looseness will start an immediate coolant leak that will send the owner hurrying for service.

Try This Some Time

Just for the fun of it I decided to be ultra polite the other day when driving in a lot of congestion. First fellow who seemed to merit a break was a chap trying to pull out of a driveway. He just didn't have a chance to get into the stream so I slowed down and let him proceed. He was so surprised he all but ran into an approaching car as he swung into line in a too wide arc.

Next came a fellow who was trying to pull out of a side street. Here again I slowed down and motioned to him to cut in. He returned the compliment by a friendly wave of his hand, but I was rather amused and somewhat puzzled by the fact that for the next three blocks he was just beside himself trying to get out of the line!

Easy On That Volume

When an ambulance came screaming down the highway the other day I was puzzled to know why three drivers paid no attention to its warning siren. Then it occurred to me that perhaps they were using their car radio and turning it up to too high volume. For safety's sake the volume should be fairly low so that warnings from the outside can be heard in time to prevent trouble.

Use For An Adaptor

Few motorists know it but if they switch to a different size tire they should install an adaptor at the speedometer drive so that both the readings will be correct. It is possible to correct the speedometer readings by multiplying the figures for a trip by a correction number for the particular size tire on the particular car in accordance with the rear axle ratio. All this may sound complicated, and it is when you consider all the factors you have to take into consideration. It's one reason so many people prefer to use the size tire the car came with.

What's Your Trouble?

Q. There's a noise in the speedometer shaft, but nothing seems to cure it. There are no kinks and the shaft has been properly cleaned. Can't see where there would be any advantage in installing a new one. W. R. E.

A. Chances are that the noise is in the speedometer unit itself, not in the shaft. I know because I had the same thing.

Q. Every now and again the engine will buck, spit and then stall. I have quite a time getting it started. All this acts like water in the gas, but I still am troubled with it even after putting alcohol into the gas tank. J. G. F.

A. The alcohol won't help the situation except to prevent freezing in cold weather. Better have the gas tank drained off and use all new fuel after cleaning out the gas line, pump, carburetor and filter.

Q. No one seems to be able to check the noise in the brakes of my car. Noise has been definitely traced to the rear brakes. I had heard that my car does not use the same clearances for all brake shoes, but several people tell me that this applies to the front brakes only. N. M. B.

A. Why don't you get the facts from the factory and not listen to so much rumor? On your car there is a difference of .004 inch between the heel and toe clearances of the rear brake shoes.

Q. Recently the engine of my car raced wildly when the throttle return spring broke. It was a minute or so before I realized that all I had to do was to switch off the ignition, but in the meantime some damage apparently was done to the engine. Since this event the engine doesn't run well at all. Mrs. J. M. S.

A. I think you will find at one of the motor mounts was broken. Q. In an effort to check pinging I had the ignition timing retarded a little. Now the pinging is worse after the engine warms up. What next? C. C. M.

A. Retarding this motor apparently causes it to run hotter. Any such raise in temperature will cause pinging especially if there is much carbon in the cylinders which I suspect is the case. I would have the carbon removed and then advance the timing to the normal point.

Q. Is it a good idea to use crankcase oil additives in with the gas-line or in a top cylinder oiler? H. H. L.

A. Some brands can be used with oilers. Don't use them in the gasolene.

Q. What causes water to back up in the radiator when the engine is accelerated? F. F. R.

A. A clogged radiator or a lower hose that collapses.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern Street, Hartford, 7, Connecticut, and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

RIOTS FLARE IN INDONESIA

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Thousands of Indonesians rioted in Indonesia's capital Friday in the wake of a parliamentary vote censuring Defense Minister Hamengkubuwono IX, the popular sultan of Jogjakarta.

Order was restored after President Soekarno assured the rioters that their demands for Parliament's dissolution would be considered. But the capital remained tense as rumors spread that the government might fall and the military high command imposed a dusk-to-dawn curfew.

Several thousand persons mobbed the residence of the Netherlands high commissioner, tore down the Dutch flag flying there and ripped it to shreds. Many carried placards demanding the recall of the Dutch military mission.

Government tanks and artillery rolled into the heart of Jakarta as some 15,000 demonstrators congregated around the Parliament building at dawn and demanded the legislature be dissolved. Troops and tanks took up positions around the building and around Soekarno's palace.

Emmitsburg

TRAFFIC LIGHTS TO REPLACE BLINKER

A full board was present at the Emmitsburg town council meeting at which decision was reached to have the blinker removed from the Square and a traffic light installed. Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, Col. Thomas J. Frail, presided at the session.

In other business, the commissioners reported that most of the owners of vacant lots have complied with the ordinance requiring weed removal.

Chief of Police Robert L. Koontz reported parking meter revenue for September as $314.57. The board was invited to Hagerstown this month to witness a sanitary landfill demonstration.

Rent control in the Emmitsburg district has been abolished by default, it was learned at the meeting. Acting on the request of a number of local citizens, the town fathers have taken up negotiations with a natural gas company in an effort to have gas piped into town. It was pointed out that the gas line is only about four miles away. Commissioner Wales Rightmour was appointed to head a committee.

Says Water Firms Face New Challenge

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., (AP)—The chairman of Pennsylvania's Public Utility Commission has told the Pennsylvania Waterworks Association that a carefully organized movement for governmental control of water companies "will inevitably be felt in the next session of the State Legislature."

Commissioner Harold A. Scragg told delegates to the group's 5th annual convention Thursday that private ownership is seriously challenged and not in a haphazard way.

Privately-owned utilities, Scragg maintained, "have taken too apologetic an attitude about their right to do business under a regulated system . . . The public should be convinced that it is to their benefit to have utilities under private ownership with proper state regulation," he added.

FARMERS PAY HIGHEST WAGES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania farmers now are paying the highest wage rates in their economic history, the State Agriculture Department reported Friday.

A federal-state survey completed Oct. 1 showed that the composite of all farm wage rates stood at 542 per cent of the 1910-1914 level and was six per cent above a year ago.

The report showed that wage rates in the past year advanced from $100 to $105 per month with board and room; from $140 to $146 per month with house; from $27.75 to $28.75 per week with board and room; from $38.50 to $40 per week without board or room and from $6.50 to $6.70 per day without board or room.

The average wage rate per hour without board or room advanced from 85 to 91 cents and the composite of all wage rates, computed on an hourly basis, went from 66.1 to 69.9 cents, the survey disclosed. Hired workers on Pennsylvania farms the last week in September were estimated at 88,000, the same as a year earlier but nearly 9,000 fewer than the last week in August.

HAVE $55,125 PREMIUMS FOR 1953 FARM SHOW

HARRISBURG (AP)—A record $55,125 in cash premiums will be in the till for exhibitors at the 1953 Pennsylvania Farm Show, Jan. 12-16.

The Farm Show Commission announcing the record sum Thursday said the money will go to the exhibitors in 24 separate departments. The largest share, $15,461, will be distributed among the dairy cattlemen.

Meanwhile, Miles Horst, state agriculture secretary and Farm Show Commission chairman, predicted "another record-breaking livestock and poultry entry list" for the coming show.

The 1952 show, held last January, drew more than 1,800 head of horses, cattle, swine, sheep and lambs. This was the largest total since the first show in 1917.

Livestock exhibits are restricted to only Pennsylvania breeders and producers, although out-of-state entries are accepted in the poultry division.

Nov. 15 is the deadline for entering both poultry and livestock in the 1953 show.

RED HEARINGS SET FOR NOV. 18

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Asserting that Communists could paralyze key defense industries in Philadelphia within 24 hours, the chairman of the House un-American Activities Committee has scheduled further hearings on Red activities here for Nov. 18 in Washington.

Rep. John S. Wood (D-Ga.), chairman of the House group, declared at the close of a four-day public probe Thursday that "testimony clearly shows that the Communists here in Philadelphia have gone underground and that they have infiltrated into key defense industries."

Of the 10 witnesses to appear before the committee, only two would offer testimony or even admit they were ex-Communists. The rest refused to answer questions, taking refuge under the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution—which provides that a person need not answer questions that might tend to incriminate him.

TWO INDICTED FOR PERJURY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jacob Freidus and Larry Knohl, figures in the congressional investigation of former Asst. Atty. Gen. T. Lamar Caudle, were indicted Friday on charges of making false statements to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The indictment returned by a federal grand jury accused Freidus and Knohl of giving false information in several letters and financial statements submitted to the RFC during attempts to buy the assets of the Aircon Manufacturing Co., Kansas City, Kan., about two years ago. The firm was then engaged in production and sale of juke boxes and other electrical devices.

Through the Starrett Television Corp. of New York, in which Freidus and his wife were controlling stockholders, Freidus and Knohl offered RFC $700,000 for the Aircon facilities. Both men are residents of New York.

The indictment contains three counts—two of false statements and a third of conspiracy. Conviction would carry maximum penalties of 15 years imprisonment and $30,000 fine.

The names of Freidus and Knohl came into the congressional investigation of Caudle in connection with an airplane sale on which Caudle received a $5,000 commission.

Says Better Weapons Can Win For U. S.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, says the United Nations will rely on superior weapons to overcome the enemy's numerical superiority in event of a showdown in Korea.

Speaking at the Carnegie Institute Society's Founder-Patrons Day celebration Thursday the general declared:

"The facts are we will not need 40,000 of our tanks to defeat 40,000 enemy tanks if a showdown ever comes."

The general said rifle grenades, improved bazookas and recoilless rifles will supply the United Nations with a strong counter-weapon. He added:

"Our approach to the threat of Communist air attack parallels our solution to the menace of Communist armor."

NAMED CAGE COACH
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Harry Litwack has been appointed varsity basketball coach at Temple University, succeeding Josh Cody who was promoted to athletic director. Litwack, assistant coach for the last 21 years, never had a freshman or junior varsity team with a losing season. He played for the Owls in his undergraduate days, and captained the court squad in 1930.

County Board of Elections.

Attest: CLARENCE C. SMITH, Clerk

To vote a straight party ticket, mark a cross (X) in the square, in the Party Column opposite the name of the party of your choice.

A cross mark in the square, opposite the names of the candidates of any party for President and Vice-President of the United States indicates a vote for all the candidates of that party for presidential elector. To vote for individual candidates for presidential elector, write or paste their names in the blank spaces provided for that purpose under the title "Presidential Electors."

A cross mark in the square opposite the name of any candidate indicates a vote for that candidate.

To vote for a person whose name is not on the ballot, write or paste his or her name in the blank space provided for that purpose. This shall count as a vote without the cross mark.

To vote for an individual candidate of another party after making a mark in the party square, mark a cross (X) opposite his or her name.

For an office where more than one candidate is to be elected, the voter, after marking in the party square, may divide his or her vote by marking a cross (X) to the right of each candidate for whom he or she desires to vote. For such office votes shall not be counted for candidates not individually marked.

If you make a mistake, do not erase. Ask for a new ballot. Use only pencil or indelible pencil.

IKE SAYS ALL DECISIONS TO BE MADE BY HIM

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower says his decisions "have been and will be mine alone" and that he still is a "no deal" man.

In a speech last night at Newark, N. J., the GOP presidential nominee also gave a pat on the back to Gen. George C. Marshall.

In his "no deal" statement, Eisenhower appeared obviously to be replying to Democratic accusations that he had come under the thumb of Sen. Robert A. Taft and Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

Technically, Eisenhower was resting today but actually he was preparing speeches and strategy for his first campaign swing into New England on Monday, hard on the heels of Truman. The general was due to spend today and tomorrow in New York, with no announced engagements.

His camp was cheered meanwhile by the pronouncement of Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Virginia Democrat, that he could not support the Democratic national ticket headed by Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

An Eisenhower adviser said last week that Eisenhower's best chance of capturing a Southern state lay in Virginia—provided Byrd did not come out for the Democratic national slate.

25,000 In Jersey City
The Eisenhower forces were encouraged also by a turnout estimated by police at about 25,000 persons to greet him last night in Jersey City—a Democratic stronghold once ruled by "Boss" Frank Hague. Hague no longer controls the Democratic organization there.

Eisenhower himself described the gathering as the largest he had seen in a lengthy day's tour across New Jersey from Camden.

The general's foes have painted him as having swung around to the views of Sen. Taft, whom they describe as an isolationist, and of Sen. McCarthy, who has linked Marshall's name to what he has termed "a conspiracy of infamy" to make the U. S. an "easy victim of the Kremlin."

To Make Own Decision
Without mentioning the senators by name, Eisenhower responded this way in his Newark speech: "I have listened to suggestions made to me by Republicans from all parts of the country. . . . But let me make it quite clear as to my personal responsibility for my ultimate decisions. Those decisions have been and will be mine alone."

He said he had given no encouragement to notions that an isolationist America could continue to live either in peace or in security. He added:

"I have abandoned no part of my belief in any of the men whom

New Oxford

NEW OXFORD — Mrs. Nelson Orndorff and children, Cynthia, Bonnie, Michael and Robert, with Mrs. James Shrader and daughters, Patsy and Peggy, and Gayle Breighner were among the large group entertained during the past week at the Hanover home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Long, in observance of the birthday of their daughter, Theresa-Marie.

The Holy Name Society of the local Catholic parish met at the parochial hall Monday evening for the October business session. It has been decided to postpone the Regional meeting of this organization from Sunday, October 19, to the following Sunday.

Another parish observance to be postponed from Sunday, October 19, to Sunday, October 26, is the annual reception of women into the Rosary Society, matrons' organization of the local parish.

The Rosary Society is preparing to conduct the fourth in a series of six public benefit card parties at the parochial hall on Wednesday evening, October 22, with Mrs. Pauline Staub Groft and Mrs. Pauline Spensler in charge of arrangements.

Lt. Herbert H. Hoke, near Abbotstown, a graduate of the local high school, now stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky., has been on furlough at his home.

Mrs. John L. Kratzert and Mrs. Philip Alwine acted as hostesses Wednesday evening when the Alwine Faithful Class of the First Lutheran Church School met at the church social rooms. The business session was in charge of Mrs. Warde Eason.

The annual Mission Sunday observance of the Catholic World will be marked Sunday at the local Catholic Church.

The regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Local fire company was conducted at the fire hall Thursday evening.

For the benefit of persons of the local Catholic parish who have been unable to attend the daily mass at the church which is at 8 a.m. during October, the Rev. Philip J. Gergen, pastor, has been distributing Holy Communion at 6:45 a.m.

The first of the season's regular meetings of the local chapter, National Council of Catholic Women, combined with a meeting of the youth group of this organization at the parochial hall Wednesday evening to plan for the fall and winter activities.

I consider great American patriots. In this group stands Gen. George C. Marshall."
